EXTRA

Session of Congress in the Fall

For Tariff Revision Says the President

IT'S NOW UP TO THE LEADERS

President Said to be Work- ing Hard for Enact- ment of Railway Legislation.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Many senators and congressmen went to the White House this morning to talk about tariff modifications and an extra session to the President. Speaker Cannon, who leads the "stand pat" contingent, was one of the first. After a talk with the President he was not in the best of humor to discuss the tariff. There is much sentiment against tariff revision.

Washington, Jan. 11.—President Roosevelt favors the earliest possible action looking to a revision by congress of the tariff. He so informed the senators and representatives who have been in conference with him, and he has made plain his position to others since that conference. He will call the Fifty-ninth congress into extraordinary session as soon as the committees have indicated that they are prepared to submit a tariff measure for passage. One of those present at the conference said that while he did not believe in any sweeping revision of the tariff and would abide absolutely by the judgment of the two houses of congress in a matter that related so particularly to them, yet he did think the time had come when the schedules should be thoroughly examined and there should be a readjustment as to certain of them.

While no decision of a definite character has been reached as to the time of the extraordinary session, it is reasonably certain that, if one should be held, it will be called to meet next autumn, probably in October. On this point, however, it is too early to speak definitely, as by the agreement to be reached between the president and the leaders of the senate and the house the extraordinary session will not be called until the committees are ready to report a bill.

On another question, that of legislation relating to the interstate freight rates of railroads, President Roosevelt's mind is quite made up. He will fight for that legislation, and fight hard. He hopes to secure from congress some definite action regarding that legislation at the present session; but if he does not, he will bring the subject before congress at the proposed extraordinary session, and will urge with all his power the crystallization into law of the recommendations he already has made to congress on that question. The freight rate question he does not regard as one of expediency. He holds that it is a subject in which a great moral principle is involved and one very near to all the people of the country.

Will Not Be Prosecuted.
Marquette, Mich., Jan. 11.—James Wallace, who after a long search was finally captured in London, England, will not be prosecuted for the alleged taking of funds belonging to Millionaire E. N. Breitling, his employer, of this city. A final settlement was effected by the relatives of Mr. Wallace with Mr. Breitling and the county.

Stranded and Abandoned.
Nassau, New Providence, Jan. 11.—The American schooner Mary Lee Patton, from Philadelphia Dec. 20 for Cardenas, has been found stranded and deserted at Abaco, Bahama Islands. The Mary Lee Patton was built in Baltimore in 1884 and is of 522 tons net. She is owned by her captain, Lewis S. Steelman of Bridgeport, N. J.

Boy Violinist.
New York, Jan. 11.—Franz Von Veczey, the 12-year-old violinist, made his American debut in Carnegie hall before a large audience, and was received with great favor.

A Chinese carpenter at Ranzoon, who had been employed to construct a pulpit for a new Anglican church, sent in the bill for the work in the following form: "To one preaching tub, 59 rupees."

CHICAGO MAN

Has Nineteen Children and on This Account He Was Not Sent to Jail.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Taking refuge under the spreading wings of the stork, by which he had been blessed with 19, Anton Hermann has gained immunity from punishment for failure to send one member of his extraordinary brood to school.

Lean and stooped, Hermann appeared in the Harrison Street Police court to answer the charge of having his 11-year-old daughter Katie away from the public schools. In broken German he attempted to explain his wealth of children, but Justice Prindiville seemed not to understand and imposed a fine of $10. Hermann stood as if dazed. Then he thrust his hands into his pockets and drew them forth empty.

"Neunzehn kinder and me to jail go?" he pleaded. "The kinder, Judge—what will the kinder do?"

Superintendent Bodine, who had prosecuted Hermann, stepped up to Justice Prindiville's side and whispered in his ear.

"You mean to say," asked the court, incredulously, "that you are the father of 19 children?"

"Neunzehn," mumbled Hermann, in echo.

"And that is the reason why you did not send Katie to school?"

"Yes; that was it, Judge," assented the German. "You see, I work by a lumber yard for $9 a week yet, and at home there was Fritz, who was one year old last Christmas back, and Gretchen and Lena, they was twins, who came by us two years away; and Hans, who was 3 years old; and Hil-da, she is 4; and Louisa and Wilhelm, they was more twins, who happened by us four years back yet, and—"

"And are you trying to support them all?" interrupted the Justice.

"Yes; me and Peter and Carl—they was my oldest boys."

"Hermann," said Justice Prindiville, brusquely, "you don't owe the City of Chicago a cent. I'm not so sure but what the debt is on the other side of the ledger."

Shot by Robbers.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 11.—J. C. Turpin, a merchant, who sleeps in his store just north of the postoffice building at Red Key, 18 miles east of this city, was awakened by an explosion due to the work of two safecrackers on the vault in the postoffice. Running from his store toward the postoffice, he encountered the robbers, who had left the postoffice temporarily to avoid the explosion and who were then returning to loot the contents of the safe. Turpin started to give the alarm and was shot in the side, probably fatally. The robbers escaped.

Four Miners Killed.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 11.—Four men were instantly killed and two others injured at a shaft which is being sunk at Rockland by the Victoria Mining company for a hydraulic power plant. The dead: William Penrose, two Austrians and one Finnander, whose names could not be learned. The accident was due to the breaking of a cable while six men were coming to the surface in a skip.

Winthrop's Message.

San Juan, P. R., Jan. 11.—Governor Winthrop's message to the Porto Rican legislative assembly was delivered. It recommends economy in expenditures; a slight increase in taxation; a civil service law covering insular appointments, and the exercise of caution in legislation making to the issue of loans so that the credit of the island may not be impaired.

Strikers Enjoined.

Maysville, Ky., Jan. 11.—Jurisdiction over the striking molders in Newport, Ky., was transferred by injunction from the Newport city police to the federal government. Judge Cochran granted the injunction asked by the Newport Foundry and Machine company. The petition asked that the jurisdiction over the strikers be transferred from the Newport city police to the federal government and that the Iron Molders' Union of North America, union No. 20 of Covington and No. 432 of Newport be enjoined from interfering in any way with the operation of the Newport company's plant.

Fatally Shot.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 11.—Wilson Addington was fatally shot while standing in the office of Addington Brothers' livery barn. The bullet came through the window and struck Mr. Addington in the stomach. Charles Sprang, a tool dresser, who was ordered from the office a few minutes before by Mr. Addington, is under arrest. On him was found a revolver with a chamber recently emptied. Mr. Addington has served two terms as county clerk and has served two terms in council.

Serves Notice on China.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The state department has informed the Chinese government through Minister Chen-tung Liang Chen that it regards the Hankow-Canton railway as an American corporation pure and simple, and as such entitled to the protection of this government; also that it would not look with favor upon the proposed cancellation of the railroad's franchise by the Chinese government.

BLOODY TRAGEDY

Enacted This Morning in the City of Chicago.

A MAN CRAZED WITH LIQUOR

Murdered Wife and His Two Little Children Then Cut His Own Throat.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—With the desperation of fendishness, John Miller, a restaurant waiter this morning shot and slashed his wife and two little children and then fired a bullet into his own breast, at the same time cutting his throat. His wife, Annie, and the children, Martha and Mary, two and one-half and one year old respectively, are dead.

Miller is dying at a hospital. For months Miller had been dissipating and not assisting in the support of his family. His wife was employed as waitress, and provided for the household.

This morning Miller returned home, crazed with liquor. Upon the refusal of his helpmate to give him money, the man drew a pistol and rushed into the room where the tots were sleeping peacefully, and deliberately shot them to death. Then he grasped a razor and began to cut and slash the little ones in a frightful manner, their blood spurting about the room, covering the bed and walls. Mrs. Miller made an effort to escape but Miller turned upon her and shot her down. Then he proceeded to rip and tear her countenance with his gory razor. Miller then fired a shot into his breast and followed it with a slash across his throat, falling beside his wife, while his own blood weltered out upon the floor beside that of his wife and children. The house resembled a veritable shambles.

BRITISH SHIP

Looted By Uniformed Men, It Is Claimed—The Home Government Is Notified.

London, Jan. 11.—Foreign Minister Lansdowne has cabled to the British minister at Rio Janeiro to investigate the circumstances of an alleged outrage on officers of the steamer Rio Xapury, at Para. The Scottish Shipmasters' association reported to Lord Lansdowne that while the Rio Xapury was anchored at Para on Nov. 29, 1904, she was boarded by uniformed men, who arrested the ship's officers, took them ashore and imprisoned them. No reasons were assigned for this action, and the following day the ship's officers were released. Meanwhile, however, their cabins had been entered and property and money stolen.

STEAMER HIT ROCK

Captain Headed Vessel For Shore and Managed to Land Upon a Sandbar.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 11.—The river steamer Dalles City, bound from this city to The Dalles, struck a rock in the Columbia river near Stevenson, Wash., and began to fill. Her captain headed the steamer toward shore at full speed and managed to land on a sandbar. There was a panic among the 70 passengers, but through the efforts of the commander and the crew the men and women on board were reassured. The steamer Regulator took the passengers off the Dalles City and proceeded up the river to The Dalles. A big hole was torn in the vessel's bow, and it is feared that she may go to pieces in the swift waters.

SKETCH ARTIST

Was Enjoined From Completing Picture of Prisoner at Evansville, Ind.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 11.—While seated in the courtroom during the trial of Nicholas Trautvetter, charged with criminal assault, Irvin Alexander, an artist employed by a local newspaper, was served with an injunction signed by President Judge Rasch restraining the artist from completing a sketch of the prisoner. A similar injunction was subsequently served upon the newspaper restraining them from publishing the sketch.

Mrs. Chadwick's Daughter.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 11.—Miss Mary Chadwick arrived here from New York today. She went to the home of E. H. Chadwick, an uncle.

FATAL CLASH

In Which 200 Were Killed and Many Others Wounded.

Berlin, Jan. 11.—The Berlin Zeitung today reports a fatal clash between the reservists and the local garrison at Smolensk, Russia. Three thousand reservists stopped at Smolensk enroute for the far East. They ran amuck, rioted and plundered parts of the city. The governor ordered the local garrison out and the latter fired into the reservists. Two hundred reservists were killed and several hundred were wounded. The colonel commanding the reservists and five junior officers committed suicide out of shame.

SELECTED OFFICERS

Ohio Mine Workers' Convention Under Way—Annual Reports Are Read.

Columbus, Jan. 11.—District No. 6, United Mine Workers of America, in annual convention here, elected officers as follows: W. H. Haskins, Columbus, president; D. H. Sullivan, Coshocton, vice president; C. W. Savage, Columbus, secretary-treasurer; William Morgan, East Greenville, national executive board; auditors, L. E. Jenkins, Sherrodsville; John Morgan, North Lawrence; Conrad Wein, Murray City.

President Haskins, in his annual address, commended the long-term contract plan, under which the organization is now operating; recommended that each miners' local erect its own hall, and advised a greater interest in general on the part of the miners in political matters.

Secretary Savage's report showed a total of receipts for the year of $265,155.18; expenditures, $204,702.09; balance on hand Dec. 31, 1904, $61,453.09. In all $153,974.18 was expended for strike benefits.

A SENSATION

Caused By Introduction of Resolution in the Legislature at Jefferson City, Mo.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 11.—Representative Grace of St. Louis introduced a resolution in the lower house of the general assembly calling for an investigation of the report that St. Louis brewers had given $21,000 to Thomas K. Neidringhaus, chairman of the state Republican committee and caucus nominee for United States senator, to influence legislation during the present session of the legislature. The resolution created a sensation. In an instant a dozen representatives were on their feet clamoring for recognition. A motion to lay the resolution on the table was lost, after a rollcall had been demanded.

Run on a Bank.

New York, Jan. 11.—A run on the State bank in Grand street caused much excitement. President O. L. Richard of the bank said that the withdrawals by anxious depositors amounted to $25,000. He added that he expected the run would last several days. The bank is in excellent condition, he said, and its deposits amount to $105,000,000. He thought the action which the American Banking association is taking against many small banks on the East Side, through which, it is alleged, many small depositors have suffered losses, has caused the people to grow suspicious of all banks.

Was a Fake.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The police investigation of the alleged attempt to blow up the statue of Frederick the Great tends to demonstrate that the affair was in the nature of a fake, caused with the view of creating a sensation rather than of defacing or damaging the statue. The investigation shows that the materials used were incapable of producing serious results.

Bryan to Deliver Oration.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 11.—Chancellor Andrews announced the selection of W. J. Bryan to deliver the commencement day oration before the senior class of the University of Nebraska next June. The name of Mr. Bryan was among those suggested to the chancellor by the seniors, and they have expressed their approval.

Thrown Into Court.

Philadelphia, Jan. 11.—A petition filed in the common pleas court by counsel for the United States Rebuilt company, a receiver was appointed for the Kew-Ford Baking company. The total value of the company's assets, $250,000, while its liabilities are fixed at $251,465.

Murder Charged.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 11.—Harry Miller was arrested and charged with the murder of James Cline at Findlay, O. 14 years ago. Mr. Cline, who has moved here, received Miller on the street and called his arrest. He will be taken to Findlay for trial.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Takes for Theme Needs of Democracy

WOULD GO BACK TO JACKSON

Believes Public Ownership of Railways Would Be a Remedy—His Indiana Speech.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 11.—Hon. William J. Bryan attributes the recent defeat of the Democratic party to its lack of the spirit of Andrew Jackson. The Nebraska leader was the principal speaker at the eighth annual banquet of the Jackson club of this city. National Chairman Thomas Taggart also spoke. Mr. Bryan said in part: "While the increased production of gold has increased the volume of money, and brought in part the relief that bimetalism would have brought to a large degree, yet some phase of the money question is always before the country. Every now and then there is a measure before congress, the object of which is to convert about 600,000,000 silver dollars into promises to pay gold, and this is but a step in the plan to retire the silver dollars and leave gold the only standard money. When the plan is complete, legislation will have destroyed all the benefits which we have derived from the increased production of gold.

"The consolidation of railroads, the giving of rebates, the making of discriminations, the watering of stock, the charging of excessive rates and a corruption of public officials—all these are combining to force upon the public the consideration of the railroad question. President Roosevelt is just now entering upon a contest for the regulation of railroad rates, and the Democrats ought to heartily support him in the position he is taking. While I am anxious that the virtue of government supervision and regulation shall be fully tried, I find myself inclining to the belief that public ownership is the only permanent cure for the evils which have grown out of the management of the great arteries of trade by a few individuals. I believe that the federal ownership of trunk lines and the state ownership of the network of local railroads will furnish a solution of the problem. State ownership of the many local lines would give the people the benefit of public ownership without the dangers of centralization, and the federal ownership of trunk lines would answer the purpose of interstate commerce.

"The party's position upon the trust question is the only correct one. That a private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable ought to be accepted as axiomatic truth, and a sincere belief in that truth will lead our party to favor legislation, both civil and criminal, which will effectively protect the public from the evils of private monopoly. The party's position in favor of tariff reform can not be abandoned without conceding the right of the government to tax those who consume the products of protected industries in order to enrich the owners of those industries. The tariff can not well be considered without considering the income tax, for no general reduction of tariff can be made without either a large decrease in the expenses of the government or the establishment of an income tax."

M. E. Ingalls, who sent a letter of regret, suggested an income tax as a proper solution of the tax question.

Strike Spreads.

Whereby Thousand Miners Now Out in the German Fields—No Trouble Yet.

Berlin, Jan. 11.—The conditions of labor in the Westphalian coal fields which have induced the growing strike will be made the subject of an interpellation in the reichstag this week. The Social Democrats are preparing to demonstrate that the status of the mine workers is most deplorable, and that in spite of the wishes of the legislature of the unions the strike is spreading, shift after shift, and that the situation is now on strike, and there is no likelihood of preventing the strike from becoming general. Thus far there have been no disturbances.

Standard Reduces Oil.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 11.—The Standard Oil company today reduced the price of oil to 10 cents a barrel.

Student's Suicide.

Amherst, N. C., Jan. 11.—A student at the Amherst school, committed suicide last night by hanging.

PEACE POSSIBLE

Between Russia and Japan—Russian Admiral Thinks Baltic Squadron Has Poor Chance.

Paris, Jan. 11.—Vice Admiral Dou-bassoff, the Russian member of the North sea commission, is quoted by the Echo de Paris as having stated in an interview that he had submitted to Emperor Nicholas a program for a re-organization of the navy, which is absolutely indispensable for success in the war against Japan. Twenty months will be necessary for its execution. Admiral Dou-bassoff thought the prospect for Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron was hopeless. He unhesitatingly declared that he considered a provisional peace would shortly be probable, Japan retaining Port Arthur and other territories which she has occupied. Russia meanwhile, the admiral said, would prepare an invincible fleet for a future effort.

Czar Fears M. Witte.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—Emperor Nicholas has not yet accepted Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's resignation of the ministry of the interior. The minister has informed his majesty of his desire to be relieved of the office because the imperial reform program did not go far enough to meet his views, but the emperor so far has persuaded him to remain in the ministry. Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's retirement soon, however, is regarded as certain, and M. Witte apparently is equally certain of becoming the Bismarck of Russia, despite the fact that he is cordially hated as well as feared at the court. M. Witte's friends, however, do not believe that he will accept the ministry of the interior.

Criticizes Stoesel.

London, Jan. 11.—The Daily Telegraph's Port Arthur correspondent says that, according to stories by prisoners, the real defender of the fortress was Major General Kondratenko, commander of the Seventh East Siberian Rifle brigade, who was killed Dec. 15, and that had he lived it is probable the fortress would not have been surrendered. General Stoesel, the correspondent adds, was inclined to surrender as early as last August. The garrison, he concludes, included 10,000 Poles, who were indifferent fighters.

France and Japan.

Paris, Jan. 11.—The Japanese minister, Mr. Motono, in the course of an interview published in the Gil Blas, says that instead of considering France an enemy, Japan would receive favorably a proposition for a convention similar to those that have been concluded between European nations.

Mines Exploded.

London, Jan. 11.—The correspondent at Port Arthur of the Daily Mail says that on Jan. 8 20 Japanese were killed by the explosion of a contact mine inside one of the forts, and that two mines in the town also exploded.

Sighted Japanese Vessels.

Sandakan, British North Borneo, Jan. 11.—Two Japanese transports were reported off Lahun on Jan. 4. Two colliers for the Russian Baltic squadron were at Lahun on Jan. 7.

Confidence in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—A French military attaché who has just returned from the far east expressed the firmest confidence that, despite the reverses suffered by the Russians on land and sea, they would prosecute the war to a successful finish. The fall of Port Arthur, he added, would change nothing. The fortress had in reality something that embarrassed the plan of campaign, but it had also served its purpose.

Scott For Senator.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 11.—At the Republican caucus of the legislature, held in the hall of the house of delegates, Senator Nathan Bay Scott was unanimously chosen as the candidate of the caucus for United States senator to succeed himself.

In Hands of Receiver.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 11.—A receiver was appointed for the Mexican Gulf Commercial company, a Maine corporation with $3,000,000 capital, half paid in, as the result of a bill of complaint filed in the federal court against the company by the Fidelity Trust company. The company exchanged coffee and rubber plantations in Mexico. Henry C. Flower, president of the Fidelity Trust company, was appointed receiver.

Rivers Booming.

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 11.—The big rainstorm which fell on the desert yesterday morning caused the rivers to boom nearly three inches. The water half as much again as it was during the entire year of 1904. All the rivers are booming and creating a noise.

Destroyed by Fire.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 11.—Fire destroyed the factory and warehouse of the Canadian Manufacturing company, makers of aerolites and clothing, at a loss of $30,000.

Student's Suicide.

Amherst, N. C., Jan. 11.—A student at the Amherst school, committed suicide last night by hanging.

CAST LOTS

To Decide Which One Should Die

Then Relief Came to the Shipwrecked Crew

Twenty of the Men Perish

Steamer Zeno Reached Waterford, Ireland, Today With 12 of the Survivors.

Waterford, Ireland, Jan. 11.—The steamer Zeno, which arrived today, had on board the captain and eleven men, the only survivors of a crew of 32 of the U. S. steam dredger, Texas.

The Texas was bound from Dantzig for Galveston and foundered off the Western Island on December 9.

The survivors tell a thrilling story. When the dredger went down, two boats were launched, the first containing the captain and eleven of the crew and the second in charge of the mate and containing 19 of the crew.

The second boat swamped and all those in her were drowned. The survivors of the wreck drifted about the open sea for several days in their open boat and suffered excruciating misery from lack of food and water.

Finally the day on which the Zeno picked them up their position had become so desperate that they had cast lots as to which of their number should be killed to provide food for the remainder. The man who was saved from this horrible fate by the sighting of the Zeno is reported to be on the verge of insanity.

The Texas which was built at Dantzig, and was on her maiden trip, left Kiel on November 28. At Holtenau she was compelled to stop to undergo repairs to her propeller. This was the last authentic news of her.

A Birthday Party.

One of the most delightful social events of the past week that has been held in Newark was the surprise party tendered Mrs. William Jacobs at her home, 22 German street, on Tuesday evening by a large number of her friends in honor of the twenty-fourth anniversary of her birth. The affair was planned by Mr. William Jacobs and Mrs. Korzenborn, mother of Mrs. Jacobs, and was a success.

Mrs. Jacobs had been visiting a neighbor and on her return shortly before eight o'clock, was greatly surprised to find the house filled with her friends and neighbors who had gathered to assist in celebrating her birthday. Mrs. Jacobs, although greatly surprised, soon rallied, and exerted herself to the utmost to entertain her self-invited guests. All had brought with them baskets filled with good things to eat, and the result was a sumptuous supper that was served during the evening. The diversions of the evening consisted of dancing, playing games of all kinds and in listening to some excellent selections rendered on the piano by Miss Ella Bingham. Mrs. Jacobs was the recipient of a number of useful and handsome presents from her friends, and the affair was thoroughly enjoyed in every particular.

Following is a list of those who were present: Mr. and Mrs. J. Donahoe, Mr. and Mrs. C. Roesser, Mrs. C. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Crooks, Mrs. William Jacobs, Mrs. Charles, Miss Daisy Burns, Edward Nehls and son, Fred, Misses Ethel Charles, May Charles, Ella Bingham, Rosa Walton, May Walton, Blanche Smith, Anna Selter, Nora Neff, Sylvia Neff, Marie Donahue, Elizabeth Neff, Emma Korzenborn, Maggie Stowe, Mrs. Korzenborn and Messrs. Senator Smoot's friends in the Utah Legislature have succeeded in renominating George Sutherland, another Mormon and a son-in-law of the infamous John D. Lee, who was executed for the Mountain Meadow massacre, to succeed Senator Kearns in the United States Senate. This action is intended doubtless to show the strength which Smoot has in the Republican politics of Utah. It also indicates that it is the purpose of the Mormon leaders to continue to defy public sentiment. The selection of Sutherland will doubtless intensify the indignation of those who have been working to unseat Smoot, and increase their efforts to that end.

A score or more of Republican newspapers are appealing to the party leaders not to commit the great folly of renominating Governor Herlick, as he cannot be elected. If that is a fact we second his nomination for obvious reasons.

GIST OF THE FUSS

The newspapers are full of the church row between a bishop, an unfrocked preacher and a woman, and the real cause of the trouble has been lost sight of in all the talk and tanglement that has followed. In briefest form the story is this:

The Accuser—Rev. N. W. Ingram Irvine, 45 years old, rector until six years ago of the Protestant Episcopal church of Huntingdon, Pa., when he was unfrocked by Bishop Talbot because, as he now alleges he was the means of excommunicating Mrs. Emma D. Elliott, who had divorced two husbands.

The Accused—Rev. Mr. Talbot for many years bishop of central Pennsylvania, a scholar and one of the central figures in the Episcopal church in this country, who is charged with conduct unbecoming a bishop of the church, in that he caused the unfrocking of Irvine chiefly to please Mrs. Elliott.

The Woman—Mrs. Emma D. Elliott, 40 years old, but still remarkable for her beauty, prominent in the social life of New York and Huntingdon, Pa., whose only comment when told of the charges was:

"What! I flirt with a bishop? Why I am a grandmother."

NO WITHDRAWAL

Of the Charges Say Members of the Board of Inquiry.

Reading, Pa., Jan. 11.—Despite the lack of a quorum, seven members of the board of inquiry appointed to probe the charges made against Bishop Ethelbert Talbot of the central Pennsylvania diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church by the Rev. I. N. W. Irvine, the deposed priest, met in this city and after a three-hours' conference adjourned to meet here Friday. The members of the committee informally considered the case in many of its phases, and after adjournment it was the consensus of their opinion that the case must be settled to save the good name of the church as well as in justice to the accused prelate. The members of the board were of the opinion that there can be no withdrawal of the grave charges, and the case ought to be settled at once and for all.

FAMILY REUNION

Enjoyed at the Home of H. Shipley at Appleton—New School Teacher Elected.

Appleton, C., Jan. 11.—It has been the custom of the H. Shipley family for several years to come together on Christmas day, but owing to the fact that the parents were in the west that day, the meeting was postponed until last Wednesday, when all assembled to greet the parents on their return home.

Eczema

How it reddens the skin, itches, oozes, dries and scabs! Some people call it tetter, milk crust or salt rheum. The suffering from it is sometimes intense. Local applications are resorted to, but they do not cure. It proceeds from humors inherited or acquired and persists until these have been removed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

positively removes them, has radically and permanently cured the worst cases, and is without an equal for all cutaneous eruptions.

JUDGE BRISTER

SPOKE AT ANNUAL BANQUET AT UHRICHSVILLE.

"Watchman, What of the Night." Subject of Address Before the Jackson Club.

Following is the toast delivered by Judge E. M. P. Brister of Licking county, at the seventeenth annual banquet given by the Twin City Jackson club of Uhrichsville and Dennison at Uhrichsville on Monday evening, January 9, 1905. The subject is timely, coming at the present crisis in the history of the party. Its discussion as given by Judge Brister will prove interesting and helpful. Judge Brister said:

One of Napoleon's generals, after a great battle in which the French had been overwhelmingly defeated, was heard to exclaim: "Thank God! Thank God!"

"What are you thanking God for?" angrily asked Napoleon. "I have not been badly defeated; our forces scattered and many of our best soldiers killed and taken prisoners."

"Yes, sire," answered the General, "but I thank God, bad as it is, that it is no worse!"

And today—in the shadow of a political defeat that at first seemed overwhelming, the unconquered and unconquerable Democratic party takes courage and thanks God that it is no worse!

For it might have been worse; far worse, my friends, than it is. Our defeat might have been far greater in extent and far more serious and permanent in its results. I am not always an advocate of political post-mortems; but sometimes they are beneficial and in this case, a proper examination of the causes that led to our recent political defeat, will convince any one that the Democratic party is too lively a corpse to be interred with safety, for at least several centuries to come!

When what appears to be a great misfortune overtakes a man, or a party, and he thinks, in the first shock of the disaster, that it is the worst that has ever befallen him, it is worth a great deal to him, to turn back a few leaves of Memory's pages and see that he has passed through greater disasters and has survived them unhurt. That fact gives him courage to believe that he also can and will survive the present disaster.

No one will deny that our recent defeat was bad enough—though, thank God, it involved no disgrace and surrender of principle and no backward movement of Democracy. But, we have passed through worse defeats than that and have not only survived them but have come out of them stronger and greater than before!

Let us look at the figures. President Roosevelt carried 32 states, with 336 electoral votes, in the recent campaign. Judge Parker carried 13 states, with 149 electoral votes. In other words, Roosevelt carried not quite two and a half times as many states and as many electoral votes as Parker did and we were defeated in the ratio of 2.12 to 1.

Yet, in the memorable Presidential election of 1872, General Grant carried 21 states and 286 electoral votes, while Horace Greeley carried only 6 states and 47 electoral votes! Thus Grant defeated Greeley in the ratio of 3.12 to 1, or more than twice the ratio of our recent defeat of 2.12 to 1. Again, a wall went up from the faint-hearted, that the Democratic party was dead; but that organization, with its usual stubbornness, refused to stay dead. It kicked off the grave clothes that the Republican party vainly sought to bury it in and four years later—in 1876—it was such a lively corpse, that it elected Samuel J. Tilden President!

But, the Democratic party has seen even a darker night of defeat than the Greeley campaign—and the sun of Democracy rose again, after that defeat, dispelling the darkness and the gloom of the night as it will rise again after this present defeat is forgotten.

The darkest night of Democratic defeat was in 1861—forty years ago—in the dark days of the Civil War. In the Presidential campaign of that year, President Lincoln carried 22 states with 212 electoral votes, while General McClellan carried only 3 states and 21 electoral votes! That is, President Lincoln carried seven times as many states and over ten times as many electoral votes, as General McClellan did! That is, General McClellan's defeat was four times greater than the defeat of Judge Parker! And yet, the Democratic party did not die then nor will it ever die, till it has completely fulfilled its divine mission, given to it by Almighty God! In the light of these comparisons, it will be seen that the recent defeat of the Democratic party was slight, in contrast with former defeats that it has passed through and triumphantly survived. So, in the light of history and in the face of the future, the hope of Democracy is infinitely better and brighter now, than it was in the dark nights of past defeats.

What were the causes that led to our defeat? The minor causes were many and they may as well be plainly stated. The election returns show that it was not so much Republican gains, as it was Democratic losses.

that caused the result. Roosevelt's increase of vote over McKinley was, in round numbers, only 400,000, or perhaps only the natural increase of votes in four years, while Parker's vote not only showed no increase over Bryan's vote of four years ago, but an actual falling off from that vote, of over a million and a quarter of votes.

These figures are significant and they speak volumes. They show that the Republican party is a close corporation, organized for mutual profit and held together by the cohesive power of patronage and policy, so that its followers may be relied upon to support its platform and vote its ticket, no matter what that platform or that ticket may be.

Conversely, these figures reveal, unmistakably, that the rank and file of the Democratic party are patriots, whose only bond of union is sentiment and principle and who do not hesitate to follow their individual sentiments, when these sentiments seem to clash with the platform or the candidates of their party. There is no disguising the fact that Judge Parker was not an acceptable candidate, nor the platform upon which he stood entirely satisfactory, to many of the rank and file of the Democratic party. Whether right or wrong, this state of feeling existed, as the vote shows.

A large number of Democrats, on the other hand, said that we did not want to elect a President this time. That a financial panic was just ahead of us and that as a party, we would better stay out of the storm; if, in no other way, then by defeat!

But, in my judgment—and I think that judgment coincides with that of the great majority—the cause, underlying and overwhelming cause of our recent political defeat may be expressed in four words: Too much apparent prosperity—especially, when that prosperity is ascribed, not to the blessings of Almighty God, supplemented by our efforts; but to the Republican party! In other words, neither politics nor sentiment, apparently, determined our recent election, as much as the spirit of commercialism, that so pervades and dominates our modern life, in all its phases.

That is to say, the recent election shows, that as long as the farmers are having good crops and getting good prices for them—as long as labor is being generally employed and at good wages, it will be exceedingly difficult for the party that is out of power to oust the party that is in power. A large proportion of voters will say:

"I am doing well enough now—better let well enough alone! I might make it worse by a change!"

It was the fear of a "change" and what that "change" might mean to them, financially—in addition to widespread dissatisfaction in the party—that caused hundreds of thousands of voters to either vote for "Roosevelt and prosperity!" as it was dinned into their ears by the wily enemy! or to stay away from the polls entirely. Thus, "accidentally speaking," the election of Roosevelt and the defeat of Parker are not to be taken as an endorsement, by the people, of the position of the Republican party upon those issues. It is to be taken, rather, as indicating disaffection in the party and also the acquiescence of the balance of power, in the existing commercial conditions and their satisfaction with the so-called "prosperity" of the country.

But, notwithstanding this humiliating confession—humiliating, alike, to the intelligence and to the patriotism of the people—let us still hope for better things! Let us hope that the time will come—and that, at a day not far distant—when the people will realize and know that the progress and prosperity of this great country of ours is not because the Republican party is in power; but in spite of that calamity! When they will realize and know, that a people can never be made rich and prosperous, by taxing them 50 cents on every dollar's worth of goods that they buy! That, if our country is prosperous, it is because of our great natural advantages—because of our rich soil—our splendid climate—our sparse population—our superior machinery—the untold wealth of our mines—our highly skilled labor—and, most of all, because of the superior work of our millions of industrious, intelligent, patriotic American citizens! It is these causes, and such as these, and not Republican tariff laws, nor financial policies that make our nation prosperous and great!

But, "Ephraim is joined to his idols!" The Republican party clings to its tariff system, which is a relic of past ages; it clings to the gold standard alone, which is unconstitutional; it clings to the trust system, which is monopoly, crushing the people; it clings to imperialism, which is anti-American! It makes no promise of retrenchment and economy—no pledge of reform and return to the Constitution, and the Declaration of Independence! So, as sure as the sun rises, the pendulum will swing back again! The people will rise and throw off the Republican yoke, as they did in 1876—1880—and 1892!

I challenge all history for a more magnificent spectacle than that of the loyalty and patriotism and devotion to duty, exhibited by the Democratic party since it went out of power in this country, 44 long years ago! For almost 44 years, we have been wandering in the political wilderness and for only two years of all that time, were we in possession of all the departments of government.

Had the Democratic party not been founded on eternal principles, it would have perished long ago! Such constancy and such devotion to duty are unparalleled! Unseduced by prosperity and undismayed by adversity, the Democratic party has overcome the temptations of the one and the hardships of the other! Meeting defeat after defeat, with unconquerable courage, it has rallied again and again, like the Spartans of old, to carry the pure, white banner of democracy to newer and more glorious Thermopylae!

The Democratic party dead? The Democratic party can never die, while the Republic lives! The Democratic party conquered? It can never be conquered, while the spirit of liberty dwells on earth! A party, whose founder was a Jefferson, who gave the Declaration of Independence to the world—a party, whose preserver was a Jackson, who won the glorious victory at New Orleans 90 years ago—a party that is of the people, by the people and for the people, is as immortal as are the people themselves! The Federal party: the Whig party; the Republican party—these "may come and these may go" but the Democratic party "goes on forever!" Its mission will never be ended, as long as there is a wrong to right, or a right to maintain and defend!

How shall the Democratic party enter upon its own again? How shall it wrest the Administration from the party that today stands as the advocate of the trusts; the tariff barons, and imperialism? I answer, simply by remaining true to the people and true to itself! It is not reorganization, but reconsecration, that the Democratic party most needs!

Let the Democratic party keep to the old landmarks! Let it contend for the Democratic faith, once delivered to the fathers. Let it not wander in forbidden paths. Let it remain, as it ever has been, the party of the Constitution; the party of just laws and equal rights; the party of honest money and conservative government; the party of American expansion and American patriotism; the party whose highest function is the preservation and the perpetuation of the rights and liberties of the people and it will be invincible!

Watchman, what of the night? Let the spirits of Jefferson and Jackson and the other immortal Democratic leaders, answer! Let the sixty years of our country's progress, prosperity and happiness, under Democratic administration, answer! Let the stars on our banner, every one of which, except the original 13, represent states carved out of territory acquired under Democratic administrations, blaze out their glorious answer!

Yes, the stars of hope still shine, in the darkest night of defeat, for an unconquerable Democracy! The dark clouds of disaster are swiftly rolling away and the rosy dawn already appears, bright with hope and promise for the future. The political cyclone has passed, and the glittering horizon of promise trembles in the horizon of an eternal Democracy!

Andrew Jackson, with his handful of ragged patriots entrenched behind cotton bales, defeated overwhelming numbers of the proud enemy at New Orleans, and we, his followers, can rally from this temporary defeat and overwhelm the enemy, in the next great battle!

Watchman, what of the night? The night passes—dawn is nigh—and victory will come with the dawn!

CATARRH

Gentlemen:—I wrote you some time ago, giving you an account of my sufferings with an awful case of Catarrh. I had all the symptoms that accompany this disease, such as mucus dropping in the throat, a constant desire to hawk and spit, feeling of dryness in the throat, cough and spitting upon rising in the morning, scabs forming in the nose, which required much effort to blow out; sometimes causing the nose to bleed and leaving me with a sick headache. I had thus suffered for five years. As soon as I heard from you, I commenced to take S. S. S. as you advised, and after I had taken three large bottles, I noticed a change for the better. Thus encouraged, I continued to take it, and in a short while was entirely cured. 224 Randolph St., Richmond, Va. J. J. JONSON A. BELLUM.

I contracted Catarrh and suffered terribly with it for 25 years. It was so bad that I had lost my hearing, sense of taste, as well as being nearly blind. I tried various medicines and specialists, spending a large sum of money with them, but with no perceptible results, so I abandoned all other remedies and doctors and began using your S. S. S. I took three large bottles and one small bottle, when much to my joy I found myself a well man. All my senses were fully recovered, and after fifteen years I am happy to relate that I have never had the slightest return of the ailment. I am now 75 years old and enjoy good health for my age. I cheerfully and gratefully recommend S. S. S. as the remedy that cured me of Catarrh. L. S. LOCUMBER, Fordyce, Ark.

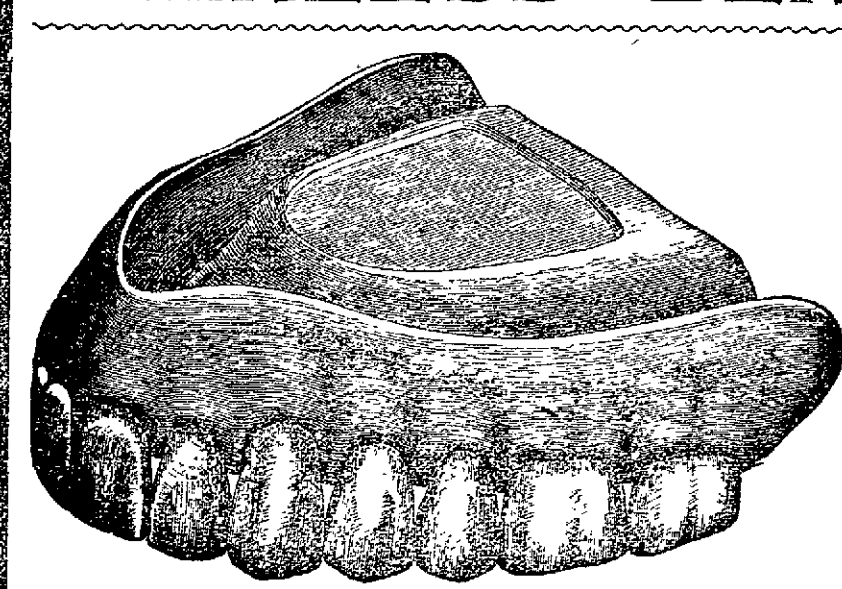

If winter is to be dreaded for its snows, icy, cutting winds and damp, unpleasant weather, it is more to be dreaded because it brings with it the most annoying and disgusting of diseases—Catarrh. The changed condition of the weather brings on "bad colds" which irritate the inner skin and tissues, and they secrete an unhealthy matter that is absorbed by the blood and scattered all through the system in its circulation, and at the first sign of winter the patient begins to "hawk and spit." All the mucus membranes and tissues of the body are affected by this disease, and the filthy, poisonous matter finds its way to every part of the body, making the sufferer dull and half sick all the time. The head and eyes have blinding aches, the stomach bloats, the hearing is often affected and in its worse forms the soft bones of the nose and head are destroyed. Local applications such as sprays, washes and inhalations can do no more than give temporary relief, because the blood is constantly circulating through the system, and it must be purified and cleared before a cure can be effected. S. S. S., a purely vegetable remedy, cures Catarrh by its invigorating, purifying action on the blood, and the catarrhal poisons are carried off through the proper channels. S. S. S. makes the blood pure, and the system it carries healthful properties to the organs and tender tissues, and the unhealthy secretions cease, and the whole system is renewed and built up by it. Don't let a "bad cold" become chronic Catarrh, but at the first symptom begin the use of S. S. S. and fortify the system against it. Our book on "The Blood" will be mailed free and our physicians will give special advice to all catarrh sufferers who write, without charge.

LOCAL OPTION

Lancaster "Dries" Get Judge Reeves Up at Midnight to Head off the "Wets."

Lancaster, O., Jan. 11.—Another local option petition was filed with Judge Reeves at midnight by Wesley Leach, president of the Good Citizens' League, and Bert Raybourn, the haste manifested being to get in ahead of the "wets."

Messrs. Leach and Raybourn called at Judge Reeves' house and placed with him the petition and asked that a date for its hearing be set.

The judge after an examination of the paper which contained 77 names, set the petition for hearing at 1 o'clock January 16.

According to the ruling of the court additional names can be added or taken from the petition at any time up to the hour of deciding the case, so it is understood that the remainder of the required 40 per cent of the 1138 qualified voters of the district will not be filed with the court until the day of hearing, January 16.

The new petition had hardly been filed when it became known and the leaders in the opposition force were in with counsel scrutinizing the signatures and preparing to fight this petition even harder than the first.

AN IMPROVING
REV. J. W. MAXWELL NO LONGER IN DANGER.

One of the Victims of Poisonous Gas Fumes Describes His Experience.

Rev. J. W. Maxwell of Newark, and Charles Axline of Rossville, the two men who were nearest death's door as the result of inhaling the poisonous gas fumes at the Modern Woodmen meeting in Rossville Monday evening, are reported resting much easier. Their recovery is no longer doubtful.

Their hair breadth escape from death proved such a shock to several of the persons who were in the hall that they were unable to attend to their regular duties Tuesday.

Dr. J. D. Shaw, a dentist, of Rossville and former mayor of that town, was one of the victims. After his recovery, Dr. Shaw said:

"It was certainly the queerest experience that ever occurred to me, and I never want it to happen again. I like, all of the others, excepting Ora Brown, was not affected until I reached the open air. Instantly I felt my muscles contract, and a sickening sensation steal over as I felt that I was about to sink in a faint. The feeling was an absolutely new one to me."

LUTHER LEAGUE

Installed Officers For the Year and Arranges Program—Lectures To Be Given.

A very interesting session of the Senior Luther league was held at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Tuesday evening, President Nehls, presiding.

The following officers for the ensuing year were installed by Pastor Schmidt: President, Miss Florence Bowman; vice president, Miss Anna Hiatt; secretary, Miss Alice Bockman; treasurer, Mr. Charles Bowman; organist, Miss Bessie Taafel. Before the installation the pastor addressed the league, outlining the work for the year and discussing the relation of the league and other young people's societies to the church.

Mrs. Martha Mills was appointed at the head of the social committee for the year with Misses Mae Markham, Anna Hiatt, Lu Atkins, Elizabeth Stadelhaus, Mary Young and Messrs. Dr. Corne, Paul Aurbach and Cornelius A. Miller, as the other members of the committee. This committee meets Thursday evening, immediately after the midweek prayer service to arrange for the young peoples' reception to be given on the evening of the 27th, in the lecture room of the church. A number of recently published books will be added to the regular reading course of the league, and at least three lectures will be given before the league by outside talent.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made.

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mrs. Cora Walker, of Porterville, California. "There is no doubt about its being the best. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by all druggists."

MRS. FISKE AND HER LATEST HISTRIONIC TRIUMPH.

In her new play, "Leah Kleschna," Mrs. Fiske has made the hit of the season in New York. It is a play of life in Paris and in Vienna. Leah, represented by Mrs. Fiske, is the daughter of a thief and is reformed by a man whose house she goes to rob. "Leah Kleschna" is the best play Mrs. Fiske has had since "Tess of the D'Urbervilles."

"THE STROLLERS."

"The Strollers" delighted a large audience at the Auditorium last night. The company will appear at Zanesville this evening.

There is something in Stephen's & Linton's production of "My Wife's Family," a musical comedy in three acts, which commends itself strongly to amusement lovers. It is one of the best musical comedies on the road. "My Wife's Family" is just a jolly bit of tomfoolery that is never leud.

decidedly pretty the songs have points and the music is catchy. Striking and effective stage costumes, stage pictures that please the eye and snatches of wit that make you laugh in spite of yourself. The company is headed by the clever comedians Hal Stephens and Harry Linton, and includes the following well-known people: Anita Lawrence, Isabella Allen, Hedda Laurent, Isabella Lowe, Thos. Lee, Marie Roslyn, J. Edwards Pierce and ten others, all of the original New York cast. At the Auditorium, Friday evening, February 13.

"OUR PASTOR" JAN. 17.
Daniel Sully, "the natural actor," has at last secured a worthy successor to his famous play, "The Parish Priest." In "Our Pastor," written for him by Jerrold Shepard, Mr. Sully appears as Father Daly, pastor of a struggling little church in Boom City, Idaho. The plot is more strongly dramatic than in any of his previous plays, and the types of rough and ready frontier characters afford a striking contrast to the kindly, humorous and at times, pathetic figure of the priest. Mr. Sully and his company in "Our Pastor," will appear at the Auditorium Tuesday evening, January 17.

NEXT WEEK'S ATTRACTIONS.
The managers of the Auditorium have secured some great attractions for this popular place of amusement for next week. On Tuesday night, January 17, Daniel Sully will appear in "Our Pastor." On Wednesday night the attraction will be "Blondell's Lost Bay," and on Thursday night the "Two Johns" will please everybody. Saturday night, January 21, "Hooligan's Troubles," will occupy the boards, with matinee in the afternoon.

never vulgar, always refined and never fails to send away a well-satisfied audience at the close of the performance. There are three hours of music, song and drollery, with never a minute that is slow or dull; in other words, it is one round of jollity from the rise to the fall of the curtain. The comedians are exceedingly funny, the ladies are

BASKET BALL

Game Will Be Played Tomorrow Night At the Y. M. C. A.—Newark vs. Zanesville.

Manager Spear of the Newark high school basketball team, announces a game with the Zanesville Ambulance corps for Thursday night at Newark. Last year this team defeated all teams it came in contact with and will for the first time play the Newark high school boys tomorrow evening at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium at 8:15 o'clock.

The Newark boys have not lost a game this season and an interesting contest is expected as both teams are strong. The Newark lovers of the sport are invited to attend and cheer for the local team. The Newark line-up follows:

POULTRY SHOW

Was a Credit to Newark Said Judge Keilar to a Delaware Reporter.

(Delaware Gazette.)
Ira C. Keilar, of Prospect, was in Newark Friday and Saturday awarding the premiums at the Newark Poultry Fanciers' Association show held last week in that city. Mr. Keilar is a native of Licking county, and has a host of friends and relatives at Newark. While enroute home, in conversation with a Gazette man, Mr. Keilar complimented the Newark show on the excellent showing made, and the large number of exhibits and quality of the birds on exhibit. At Brookridge Farm, the home of Mr. Keilar, who today is recognized as the ablest judge of fine poultry in the country, the scientific breeding and developing of poultry is carried on with probably greater success than by any other breeder in this section of the country. Birds and eggs from his hennery bring high prices everywhere and his customers are found in every state in the Union, in Australia, Europe, South America and Canada. For years he was a successful exhibitor at the great annual poultry show at Madison Square Garden, New York City, and for the past three years he has been asked and has served as judge of poultry at these great shows.

AT ST. LOUISVILLE

B. & O. Brakeman Bullock, Who Died at Mansfield, Buried Thursday Afternoon.

The remains of the late R. R. Bullock, the B. & O. brakeman who died at the hospital in Mansfield from the effects of injuries received at Shelby Junction, arrived here on Tuesday night and was taken to the home of his sister, Miss Sadie Bullock, on Spencer street. The young man was born in St. Louisville January 26, 1877, and was nearly 27 years old. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bullock, one brother, William, and three sisters, the Misses Lottie and Christine of St. Louisville, and Miss Sadie Bullock of this city. The deceased was a member of S. G. Martin lodge, No. 168, B. of R. T. and was also a member of the Eagles. The funeral will leave the house Thursday at noon for St. Louisville, and will drive through. The services will be conducted by the Rev. E. L. Spauld at the Lutheran church in St. Louisville at 2 o'clock, giving ample time to his friends to take the B. & O. train, which leaves Newark at 1:49 o'clock to attend the services at the church. Burial will be made in the St. Louisville cemetery.

IDLEWILDE TEAM

WILL APPEAR IN GRAY AND BLACK THIS YEAR.

Manager Snodgrass Is Much Pleased With the Interest Already Taken In the Club.

The management of the Idlewilde baseball club has decided on the new uniforms for the Idlewilde team for 1905.

The coat and trousers will be of gray cloth with jet black trimmings. The cap will be gray with a black crown, while the stockings will be of black.

Manager Snodgrass is very much pleased with the way the Newark people have already taken interest in the new 1905 team and he feels that this will be a great year in Newark baseball circles. Mr. Snodgrass will go to Cincinnati this week to order suits for the team.

Be A Real Woman.

No. 305 Pease Avenue, Houston, Texas, May 14, 1902.

I was barren during the six years of married life, suffering with painful menstruation and a dozen other aches and pains. I was a poor excuse for a wife as I was not able to be up more than about half the time and daily grew weaker and weaker.

Wine of Cardui changed me into a different woman in five short months, made me robust and strong.

I am very grateful to you for my good health and am today blessed with a baby who is the pride of our home and this is all due to your medicine.

Mrs. Charles Mason

Vice-President, Houston Mothers' Club.

Wine of Cardui brings health to sick women. Wine of Cardui brings children to barren homes.

How can any woman refuse the health Mrs. Mason has? Any woman can secure exactly the same relief if she will take Wine of Cardui. Wine of Cardui is a certain cure for menstrual irregularities. It will not do impossibilities but it does cure bearing-down pains, makes motherhood possible for barren wives and relieves the pains at the monthly period.

Secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

Are You Doing All You Can For Your Boy?

Haven't you been thinking for sometime you ought to get something for your boy? He don't look well nor sleep well nor eat right. He often complains of feeling tired and out of sorts, his face is flushed and skin hot. Sometimes he is sick at the stomach, wants to vomit, has headache and often is feverish. Perhaps you feel that way yourself. If you do, you have dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach. This may be your boy's case. Don't neglect your boy any longer. Don't let him suffer and grow thin and lose his bright, boyish ways, and right now take care of your own health. Let father and son as well as mother and the girl use Smith's Triple Cure. This great remedy makes rich, red blood, drives out catarrh, cures dyspepsia and gives life and energy to tired nerves. Smith's Triple Cure will bring you around all right. You don't need to employ a doctor, for Smith's Triple Cure will do all that a doctor can do, and more. It strikes right the first time. It goes right to work making pure, rich blood and toning up the nerves, stomach and digestive organs. Smith's Triple Cure is a positive cure for all forms of catarrh, dyspepsia and blood troubles. Every package contains four separate preparations, a grand new system, price only 50 cents a full two weeks' treatment, the greatest value for the money ever offered. Der German Cobbler

He Tells How He Got a Political "Pull" and Let Go of It.

ONE day six weeks ago a man comes in my shop and says he likes to speak to me in some confidence. I turn my dog outdoors and make der cat fly into der back yard and says he can go ahead. "Do you like to be some rich man?" he whispers in my ear. "Of course." "Und boss dis ward und make all policemen take off der hats to you?" "Dot vhas me." "Und haf a cobbler shop mit plate glass windows and six men working for you?" "But it can't be so," I say. "It vill be so," he replies. "Der matter mit you vhas dot you don't haf

"IT VHAS DIS VHAS," I SAYS.

some political pull. Mitout dot pull you vhas only Hans der cobbler. Mit dot pull you vhas Hans der big man und boss. Eften der plumber und coal man vhas afraid of you if you haf a pull.

"But how shall I get him?" "Shust ash easy ash grease. You know me, don't you?"

"No, I neffer see you before." "Vhell, my name vhas Rogers, and I vhas der mayor's confidential man. He tells me everyt'ing und depends on me. I shall tell him dot you like a pull, und he vill gif you one. In two days you vhas der boss of dis ward. Nobody can haf some office unless you say so, und you shall get 10 per cent on all contracts. In one year you vhas riding in your carriage."

"But I can't pay you for some pulls," I says.

"I don't take any money from you. It vhas because you vhas a good fellow und I like to see you prosper. Of course if I come around und want some shoes fixed or if I send some of my friends you shall make no charges. It vhas all in der job, you see. We take care of you, und you take care of us. I'll send a pair of shoes around dis evening, und tomorrow some alderman vill drop in to pay some respects to der new boss."

I don't know about some politics und pulls, but I relief mebbe he vhas all right, und it makes me happy. Next day I vhas thinking about dot plate glass front when a stranger comes in und shakes hands mit me und says:

"Vhell, Hans, I hear der news und come to see you. I vhas Alderman Blank, you know, und der mayor gif you some pulls mit me. Dere vhas no contracts shust now to gif out, but when dere vhas I shall divide der profits mit you. I hope you shall make ten thousand dollars next year. By der way, I like some lifts on my heel while I wait."

I put some lifts on his heels, und all de time he talks to me about some pulls und what a big man I vhas. When he vhas ready to go out he says:

"It vhas all right, eh? I vhas der alderman, you see, und we work together. If any of der boys come in use 'em well."

In two hours more a second man comes in. He says he vhas der public buildings man, und when we shake hands he winks und smiles und says:

"I vhas glad to hear of it, Hans. You vhas a good feller, und dot pulls vill make you all right. I don't haf some shobs to gif out shust now, but when I do you vhas one thousand dollars ahead of der game. Does der policeman on dis beat take off his hat to you yet?"

"Not by jussful! He goes py dis morning und shakes his fist at me."

"Hil! I shall speak to him, und you vill see a difference. Say, Hans, here vhas two pairs of shoes to be fixed oop. When you git 'em done send 'em home. If any of my friends from der board of health come in treat 'em well."

It don't pe feefteen minutes more before dot new policeman comes in. He vhas smiling like a child, und he takes off his hat und bows out his hand to me und says:

"Hello, my old frend! Let us shake!"

"But three weeks ago you call me Dutchy und knock me around der shop," I says.

"Dot vhas all right. Dot vhas because you don't haf some pulls. If a man don't haf some pulls, I can knock him all ower der town. Hans, I congratulate you. You vhas now most ash big a man ash der president of der United States. It vhas for you to tell me what to do, und I shall do it. Shall I go ower und knock der carpenter's head off for you? Shall I run der grocer in for having some cabbages on der sidewalk? Shall I stop der street car from going py your door when you haf some headaches? Shust tell me what you vant, und it shall be done."

Dot policeman vhas so smiling und good natured und tender hearted dot it brings tears to my eyes, but I tell him I don't vant somet'ings dot day. He feels badt because he can't knock somebody's head off for me, but pooly soon he vhas ready to go out und he says:

"You see, dere vhas two pulls, your pull und mine. Each pull must help der odder. Your pull can help my pull dis morning py lending me a dollar."

"I don't relief I can."

"But you must. If one pull goes back on der odder der vhas der devil to pay. Don't you pe such a fool ash to spoil all your chances."

I gif oop my dollar, und he pats me on der back und says:

"Bully for der boss of der Seventh ward! Hans, if you lif long enough you vill pe some great man. Py der way, my frendt Black, who vhas in der school board, may drop in today. Use him well. It vill be for you to appoint all der schoolteachers, und each one must pay life honored dollars."

In about two hours dot man Black comes in. He shakes hands und smiles und says how glad he vhas to see a big man, und more ash ten times he looks around to see if I haf a pair of beer in der shop. I don't haf any, und py und py he says:

"In two weeks I come to see you about ten more new schoolteachers, but today I shust call in to pay my respects und leave dis pair of shoes to be fixed oop. Did Iogan call here yet?"

"I don't see him," I says.

"Perhaps he vhas gone to der city hall, but he vill be sure to be here. Hogan vhas in der district attorney's office, und he vhas a good man to work mit. If somebody sue you he can adjourn the case till dot fellow dies of old age. You vill find him some awful good fellows, und I know he vill like you. Py George, but I most forgot somet'ings!"

"How vhas dot?"

"I change my trousers when I come away und forget my cash. I haf to go to der funeral of my old frendt Q. B. D. before I go home, und I like to borrow $2 of you until dis eafening."

"But I can't lend you $2," I says.

"But you must. I haf a pull, und you haf a pull, und we must be frendts. Next week I lend you $2 if you want it. Dot's de vhay it goes if you haf some pulls—one hand washes the odder. Cough up, Hans; cough up."

I don't haf some coughs, but Mr. Black speaks to me till I haf to cough oop dot $2. It seems to me if I haf a pull it vhas all pull oout of my pocket, und I vhas wondering how it vhas when Mr. Hogan comes in. He smiles und laughs und shakes hands like some good fellows, und den he says:

"Vhell, Hans, I do you a favor today. You vhas all K. O. now, but if I vhasn't for me you vhas fined $300 today."

"How vhas dot?" I says.

"Vhell, somebody complains of you putting pastebord beels on shoes, und der law vhas going to make you smart for it. It vhas all right now, however, und don't you worry. As soon ash I found out dot you haf some pulls I burned oop all der papers. Say, Hans, I haf my pocket picked on der street car und can't buy no beefsteak und onions for dinner. Shust lend me $2 till 6 o'clock dis eafening."

"I haven't got it."

"Den you must borrow him."

I don't vant to do it, but he was so sleek dot I haf to, und when he goes away he says dot his frendt Thomas of der sewer department vill be in before night. For one hour I don't work, but sit und think. Den I vhas ready for Mr. Thomas. He comes in at 4 o'clock, und he takes off his hat und smiles und says:

"I hope I see you well, oldt wans. My name vhas Thomas, und I heard about your pull und come."

"So you heard about my pull?" I says.

"I did."

"Did you also hear somet'ings else about my pull?"

"No. How vhas it?"

"It vhas dis vhay," I says ash I take him py der shoulder und turn him about und send him more ash twenty feet away und lock my door on him. I vhas a fool sometimes, but not all der time.

Not Close.

GENERAL NOGI AND VANQUISHED AT PORT ARTHUR.

While General Nogi is the victor and General Stoessel the vanquished in what is generally regarded as the greatest siege the world has ever known, there is a disposition to accord them equal honor. General Nogi's investment of the fortress of Port Arthur and the subsequent operations stamp him as a great fighter and a great tactician. General Stoessel's defense in the face of almost certain ultimate defeat has won him the commendation of the world.

He Wanted a Change, But Still He Kicked

"BEEF again," said the head of the house discontentedly as the platter was passed before him.

"Do you know, my dear, there are times when beef begins to pall on me?"

"We had lamb yesterday," said his wife, "and on Monday you know we had a roast loin of pork."

"Oh, I know. That's just it. Beef, mutton and pork—pork, mutton and beef—one monotonous routine."

"You don't care for chicken?"

"Oh, I get tired of chicken, that's all. What I would like is a little change."

"We had a rabbit stew last week. I thought you enjoyed that. If you like I'll have it again tomorrow."

"My dear," said the head of the house, "I don't see why you imagine that because I happen to eat something with a tolerable relish I can stand for it seven days in the week. Let the rabbit rest for awhile. Beef?"

"If I had known you wouldn't care for it, I might have had some fish."

"You can't get any fish that has the right flavor after it has been packed and kept on ice."

"It's a pity that some new animal can't be invented for you," said the long suffering housewife, rebelling. "I was reading the other day that they ate iguanas in South America and that the Digger Indians considered ants' eggs a delicacy."

"I don't think I am hard to satisfy," said the head of the family. "Perhaps I had no right to hint that an occasional variety in my diet would be what is this?"

"What is which?" asked the lady, as he masticated slowly and analytically. "This—this meat."

"It's venison steak. The red currant jelly is to the right of you."

"I suppose you think that's funny," said the head of the house.—Chicago News.

She Meant Well.

"Now, Tommy," said Mrs. Bull, "I want you to be good while I'm out."

A Lesson In Manners By the Eldest Girl

"I WISH you wouldn't, pa," said the eldest girl.

"Wish I wouldn't what?" asked the plain citizen.

"Eat with your knife," replied the daughter. "It's so."

"So what?" asked the old gentleman, knitting his shaggy brows.

"So unconventional."

"Now, looker here," said the plain citizen. "I'm sixty years old and getting older every minute, but I'm not too old to learn. If you can show me any way of getting gravy up to my mouth with a fork I'm willing to try it. I've got to use a knife."

"People don't do it, pa."

"You're mistaken about that. I know a heap of people that do it."

"But not refined people, pa."

"Ireeny," said the plain citizen, "you make me tired. I believe in being polite when there's sense to it. Manners is manners, and I always taught you manners when you was a young one. I wouldn't let you grab for the biggest piece of pie on the plate, and I wouldn't let you spill, and when you drink I made you drink quiet. You wasn't allowed to wipe your mouth on the tablecloth or speak with your mouth full. Them's manners. Jess so long's I keep my own knife on my own vittles I claim that it's my own business whether I put it in my mouth or not, ain't it?"

"Well, perhaps it is, but"—

"There isn't any 'but' about it. When I took you to the city last fall there was a feller setting at a table in the restaurant where we was; dressed to kill he was, too, and when he got through eating he lit up a cigaret, and wimmin setting right there, 'member that?"

"Yes, but"—

"No 'but' about it. If he'd been a boy o' mine I'd have jerked him out o' the room and taught him manners. When that fella was staying with us last summer you fussed because I sat down to the table in my shirt sleeves. The man he set down without even a vest, and that was all right. I think it was all right, too, but why is muslin any more improper than blue and white striped flannel, and how is a belt any better than suspenders? They're both to hold the pants up."

"Why, pa?"

"I hope you don't mean to say that pants is unconventional, Ireeny, you talk a lot of poppycock. I'm willing to be polite, as I said, but I'm going to use common sense about it, and I'm going to eat with my knife as much as I dern please, and I don't want to hear any more out of you about it. Understand that, don't you, Ireeny?"

"Yes, pa," replied the daughter weakly.—Chicago News.

The Bright Side.

"My dyspepsia is so troublesome I can hardly eat."

"Well, at any rate, it must be an economical complaint."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

HOW THE CAPTURE OF PORT ARTHUR WAS EFFECTED.

The map shows how the Japanese, starting a long line about Port Arthur, gradually broke down the Russian lines until on the last day of December they had succeeded in capturing the city and the city was in the hands of the Japanese.

HARAKIRI IN JAPAN. DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

How the Ceremonial Self-Dissection Was Performed.

ELABORATE METHOD FOR A DAIMIO

Baron Suyematsu Describes the Etiquette Observed When a Feudal Baron or Samurai of Very High Rank Had to Dispatch Himself. Special Apartment Prepared for the Ceremony.

Literally harakiri is "belly cutting," and this is the expression in common use, but kappuku, or, more usually seppuku, is the word employed by persons of refinement, the actual meaning, however, being the same as harakiri, says Baron Suyematsu in Nineteenth Century. Seppuku and kappuku are expressions coined from Chinese.

Seppuku was not only a mode of self-dispatch, but was prescribed as a form of capital punishment for all of samurai rank. No samurai was ever to be beheaded or hanged.

Naturally under such conditions the act of seppuku came to be invested with much formality, and cases in which the most elaborate etiquette had to be strictly observed were those when a daimio—i. e., a feudal baron or samurai of particularly high standing—was called upon by the proper authorities to dispatch himself in this way in expiation of some political offense.

A special commissioner was then sent from the proper quarters to witness the due execution of the sentence, and a kai-shaku-nin was chosen to assist the principal in ridding himself of the burden of life. This person was selected by the condemned from the circle of his own immediate relatives, friends or retainers, and the kai-shaku-nin's office was an honorable one, inasmuch as he was thereby privileged to render a last service to his comrade or chief.

There was always a special apartment or pavilion prepared in which the ceremony had to take place, a particular dress, designed for use only on these melancholy occasions, had to be worn, and the dagger or short sword was invariably placed before the seat of the condemned on a clean white tray, raised on legs, termed sambo, which in the ordinary way is a kind of wooden stand used for keeping sacrifices offered to the gods or for some similar solemn purposes.

The actual cutting open of the body was not essential, a trifling incision in a horizontal line six or seven inches or rarely in two lines crossing each other—the more superficial the better, as proof of a light and skillful touch—being ordinarily made, followed by a deep cut in the throat. As a rule, however, immediately after making the incision in the abdomen the condemned made a slight movement of his disengaged left hand and stretched his neck forward as signs to the kai-shaku-nin to do his office, perceiving which, the latter, who stood by with his sword ready poised, instantly struck off his principal's head.

In Japan there is no need to speak directly of either harakiri or seppuku, as the euphemism ku-sun-go-bu is often employed—literally nine inches and a half, which was the proper length of the dagger to be used on these occasions. The weapon was always wrapped in some sheets of pure white paper, only the extreme point being exposed, and it was correct to hold it when making an incision in the right hand, not by the handle, but by the middle of the paper wrapped blade. How to sit, how to bow to the spectators when about to commence the awful task, how to unfold reverently the part of the clothing which covers the upper part of the body, how to wrap up the dagger and how to make the requisite signal to the kai-shaku-nin were all matters on which the utmost nicety was enjoined and were part of the instruction which every samurai was obliged to receive from the master of military ceremonies. Harakiri, indeed, was to the samurai a matter involving an appalling amount of ceremony.

Wonders of London's Coliseum.

One of the wonders of the new Coliseum in London will be that the stage will have three revolving platforms capable of being turned at a speed of twenty miles an hour, and the illuminating power will be equal to 64,000 candle power, says the London Mail.

The stage has a proscenium opening of fifty-five feet. Another new feature is a chorus, accommodated in two great alcoves, so that each singer who appears on the stage will have a trained choir to help in the refrain. The scenery will be hoisted by compound electric driven winches, and an overhead railway has been constructed to carry the heavy scenes from place to place. The stage is so roomy that a football match could be played on it.

Song For the New Year.

Let us in this new year, The highest robe of truth for raiment wear, What we create life may give to bear, Assume them, though they lead Our graves that hide our dead!

Life hath more dark than light, But let us dream a star shines in the night! That love shall reach beautiful and far, Our love shall God hath stationed star from star!

That truth stands bright In God's own light, Mailed in God's might!

Woe the world pulls on, But darkness is but prophet of the dawn, And lo! it is that ever strives to lead The dreamer where the dream becomes the deed!

I shan't live in all a year's Faith that shines bright over fears, And God to guard the years!" —Atlanta Constitution.

NEWS OF OHIO

Engine Blew Up Today at Crestline.

A MISSING WILMINGTON MAN

Has Been Seen in Far West—Obliger Gives Bail—Live News of the State.

Crestline, O., Jan. 11.—Two men were blown to instant death here by the explosion of a big Erie locomotive early this morning, a third man was seriously hurt and the engine was demolished. The dead are:

Fred Kellar, Galion, engineer.
Coas. Sherrick, Galion, fireman.
Frank Newman of Elmira, N. Y., a traveling fireman was seriously injured. He was taken to Akron, and is in a hospital there. The engine was drawing train No. 14, the eastbound Wells Fargo express. It arrived here at 2:30. At the Wheeling & Lake Erie crossing the train stopped. A moment later the boiler let go. Kellar and the fireman were found terribly disfigured. It is said that the injector failed to work.

Fireman's Narrow Escape.

Marion, O., Jan. 11.—James C. Sharrock, of Galion, who ordinarily would have been firing on Erie train No. 14, whose engine exploded at Crestline, this morning, was persuaded not to go on his run last night by his father-in-law, E. J. Stanley, of this city. Sharrock had run a thorn into his hand and cold had settled in the wound, making it very sore. He went as far as Galion and was there relieved by the man who was killed.

Ohio Farmers' Institute.

Columbus, O., Jan. 11.—The State Farmers' Institute today elected Lowell Roundbush of New Richmond, president, and W. C. Farnsworth of Waterville, vice president; Secretary W. W. Miller of the State Board of Agriculture, being ex-officio secretary-treasurer. It asked legislative aid in the work for the betterment of farmers' conditions.

State Bar Meeting.

Salem, O., Jan. 11.—United States Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, has promised to make the annual address to the Ohio State Bar association at Put-in-Bay, July 11-14.

Granville Council Meeting.

Granville, O., Jan. 11.—At a meeting of the council Tuesday night, Frank Robinson was elected councilman to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of J. B. Jones as mayor. The place of holding the meetings of the council was changed to the room occupied by the township trustees. The report of the committee appointed to reapportion the funds of the village was also made.

Will Not Return to Wooster.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 11.—L. P. Ohliger and J. R. Zimmerman, who were arrested recently at Victoria, B. C., and who arrived here yesterday afternoon in custody of secret service officers, will remain here instead of returning to Wooster to face their acquaintances, they today say. Ohliger has been released and Zimmerman's attorneys say they will secure bail for him today.

Wooster Bank Shortage.

Wooster, O., Jan. 11.—There is a great diversity of sentiment as to Ohliger and Zimmerman. It is said that the shortage of the bank will fall below $240,000, the amount reported.

New Zanesville Trust Company.

Zanesville, O., Jan. 11.—Incorporation papers for The Security Trust and Savings company of Zanesville, with capital stock of $250,000, were forwarded to Columbus today. The incorporators are: J. C. Sauer, E. O. Townsend, W. C. Atkinson, L. M. Elwell, I. G. Jennings, C. W. Reynolds, J. B. Anderson, Robert H. Evans, A. Evans, W. M. Barnett, H. L. Greiner, M. W. Hisey, L. E. Brelsford, H. E. Printz, Chester A. Baird, C. E. Kearns, N. P. Shultz, Simon Linser, J. T. Sutton, Frank B. Fell, J. H. Shilps, Robert J. King, Hon. W. D. Gullbert, Frank Ransbottom, General Chas. Dick, W. B. Deacon, George K. Brown, J. L. Shultz and C. F. Hearing.

Fell and Instantly Died.

Mansfield, O., Jan. 11.—Ex-Councilman Joseph Shantz fell and expired almost instantly Monday afternoon. Death was due to heart failure.

Delaware Carnegie Library.

Coshocton, O., Jan. 11.—Delaware's new Carnegie library is to be built after the plans of the Coshocton structure in the main. The board of trustees were in Coshocton several months ago, and were much impressed with the library, making only one or two minor suggestions. Their new building is about ready for dedication and the exterior will be almost exactly similar to the Coshocton edifice.

Killed By Natural Gas.

Delaware, O., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Dore Hill, aged 72 years, mother of Mrs. Emma Vogt of Columbus, was found dead in her chair at her home, having been asphyxiated by natural gas. The deceased was born in Radnor township and has been a resident of Delaware for many years, her husband having died about 20 years ago.

This is the second fatality from the deadly fumes of gas in Delaware in two years.

Cow Dies of Rabies.

Lancaster, O., Jan. 11.—The money spent in sending Dell Underwood and Wilber Hedges to the Pasteur Institute at Chicago, was not thrown away. Monday, a cow owned by John Brunner of near Carroll, died with a violent case of the rabies. It will be remembered that a mad dog attacked these young men last summer, near Havensport, and also bit several hogs of Mr. Spangler in Greenfield township before it was dispatched. The boys took the Pasteur treatment and have had no symptoms of the terrible disease. The cow of Mr. Brunner was bitten on the same day that the dog attacked Hedges and Underwood.

Ohliger and Zimmerman Arraigned.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 11.—L. P. Ohliger and J. R. Zimmerman, defaulting officials of the Wooster (O.) National bank, arrived here in the custody of two secret service men from Victoria, B. C., where they were placed under arrest several days ago charged with embezzling the funds of the bank. The two bankers were at once arraigned before United States Commissioner Marlatt. They both pleaded not guilty and waived a preliminary hearing. Bail was fixed at $15,000 in each case. Ohliger furnished bond at once through a local security company with which it is understood, the sum named has been deposited by Ohliger's friends. Zimmerman was unable to secure bond and remained in the custody of a deputy marshal during the night.

Chadwick Jewels Located.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 11.—Officials of the customs department have succeeded in locating more than $50,000 worth of diamonds and jewels owned by Mrs. Chadwick, upon which it is declared no duty was paid when they were brought into this country from Europe. Most of these valuables, it is said, are in the hands of persons in this city, who hold them as security for loans made to Mrs. Chadwick. As the sums loaned on them were generally far below their appraised value, it is believed the present holders will suffer little if any loss by reason of being compelled to pay the duty, which the local collector of customs has announced they must do.

Sequel to False Confession.

Urbana, O., Jan. 11.—The grand jury reported indictments against Magistrate Sam Standish and Columbus Bowen of Woodstock, O., for alleged subornation of perjury in persuading the false testimony of William Wooley in the trial of William Nichols for the murder of Wilbur Lattimer. Wooley was indicted on a similar charge.

Massillon Man Gets Place.

Massillon, O., Jan. 11.—Milton S. Garver of Navarre, a suburb of Massillon, was appointed United States vice consul general at Marseilles, France, to succeed Victor H. Morgan of this city, resigned. Mr. Garver is employed as an instructor in French at Yale college.

Killed While Hunting.

Zanesville, O., Jan. 11.—While hunting near Clayville, Guernsey county, Lewis Saladay, 50, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of his gun. Saladay was a prominent stock broker, well known throughout southeastern Ohio and eastern Pennsylvania.

Young Woman's Suicide.

Dayton, O., Jan. 11.—Miss Monte Wells, 29, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. A love affair is given as the cause of the rash deed.

New Fair Board.

Coshocton, Jan. 11.—At the annual meeting of the Coshocton County Agricultural society, the following directors were re-elected: C. H. Glover, Alex. Stewart, Robert Boyd, W. S. Simon, E. L. Lybarger, W. B. Miller, Henry Clark. The board will organize next Monday.

Deaths at Coshocton.

Coshocton, O., Jan. 11.—Three well-known residents of Coshocton and vicinity have answered to death's call. William Howard, a familiar figure and an object of sympathy from his affliction of total blindness, died Tuesday, at the infirmary.

Mrs. Matilda Nelson, wife of Samuel Nelson, succumbed to typhoid fever in Roscoe. She was about 36 years of age, and highly respected. She leaves besides her husband, five children.

The death of William King, 25, occurred at his home in this city, Tuesday afternoon.

Missing Ohio Man Seen.

San Francisco, Jan. 11.—For nearly six months, Charles D. Lamb, deputy county treasurer, of Wilmington, Ohio, has been missing. Minnie Johns, a personal friend of the Lamb family, of Wilmington, says she talked with Lamb here.

Cousin of President Garfield.

Zanesville, Jan. 11.—Jacob Ballou, a full cousin of the late James A. Garfield, former president of the United States, died at midnight at his home near Cannelville. The deceased was 81 years old. His father was a brother of President Garfield's mother.

Proposed Electric Line.

Woodsfield, O., Jan. 11.—The failure of the Appleyard syndicate and the consequent abandonment of their intention to make the O. R. and W. R. R. an electric line, has served to intensify the talk of an interurban line between here and Barnesville giving an outlet to the B. & O. A meeting of those interested will be held this week. J. W. Alverson and Dr. Norris, both men of money, are interested and developments may be speedily looked for. The proposed route will include Malaga, Miltonsburg and Somerton.

Jacksontown Notes.

Jacksontown, Jan. 11.—Mr. Richard Courson, proprietor of the Hotel Courson, of this place, had the misfortune to lose a valuable young colt on Tuesday. The animal was 7 months old, and died of distemper.

Dr. M. M. Rarrick and wife will leave for New York on Thursday, where the doctor will take a course in surgery during the winter. His office here is now occupied by Dr. J. W. Whittus.

IN DEATH

He Held to the Throttle of His Engine While It Speed on With a Train.

Mt. Vernon, O., Jan. 11.—L. M. Bonham, a Cleveland, Akron and Columbus engineer, was found dead in his cab a short distance south of here Tuesday. A terrible hole in his head indicated that while looking out of the cab window he had been struck by some object.

The lifeless body was discovered by the fireman with his hand cold in death still gripping the throttle of the engine. It is thought that the train ran many miles before the dead body of the engineer was discovered. Bonham lived in Columbus.

WASHINGTON NEWS

Arbitration Treaties.

Washington, Jan. 11.—It is stated on the highest authority today that President Roosevelt will insist upon ratification of the various arbitration treaties without amendment. If the senate emasculates them by additions or subtractions the President will withdraw them.

Artist Mattheys Died Today.

Washington, Jan. 11.—W. T. Mattheys 65, a well-known portrait artist, died this morning at the Emergency hospital, as a result of an accident Christmas day. He was a native of Ohio.

In the Senate Today.

Washington, Jan. 11.—In the senate today Newlands (Dem.), Nevada, advocated federal control of corporations engaged in interstate commerce. He said the interstate commerce commission should be given authority and power to classify and fix freight and passenger rates.

As to Freight Rates.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The senate today agreed to a resolution calling upon the interstate commerce commission for information relative to the alleged excessive or exorbitant freight rates, unjust discriminations and violation of published rates.

Hearst's Resolution.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The house committee on reform in civil service authorized a favorable report on the resolution introduced by Representative Hearst, calling on the president for "all reports, documents, papers and orders showing the executive action relating to political activity by letter carriers mentioned in his last annual message and the grounds therefor," also directing the postmaster general to communicate to the house all facts bearing upon the dismissal of James C. Keller, Frank Cunningham, Warren Tumber and H. W. Aldrich and the grounds for said dismissal. Mr. Hearst thought the president's executive order prohibiting political activity was "arbitrary and restrictive."

Statehood Debate.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The senate continued consideration of the joint statehood bill, the chief accomplishment being the acceptance of most of the amendments suggested by the committee on Indian affairs. Speeches were made by Messrs. Stewart and Newlands, the former advocating an amendment for the protection of the interests of the Indians in Indian Territory and the latter favoring limitation of the area of lands to be sold to individuals. The bill for the reimbursement of American sealers for losses under the seizures in Bering sea also was considered, but a vote was not reached.

Currency Bill Up.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The session of the house was given over almost entirely to discussion of the bill reported by the committee on banking and currency "to improve currency conditions." A sudden interest in the measure seemed to develop, as evidenced by the large membership present throughout the day. Democratic opposition mainly was dissipated by the adoption of an amendment offered by Mr. Williams (Miss.) providing that government deposits shall be made only on competitive bids. Final action on the bill was not taken.

Charges Against Swayne.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The select committee of the house appointed to draft articles of impeachment against Federal Judge Swayne completed its work by the preparation of 12 articles of impeachment. A minority report signed by Representative Littlefield of Maine and Parker of New Jersey dissents to all the articles of impeachment except that pertaining to the falsification of the expense account of Judge Swayne.

Presented Retiring President With a Fine Morris Chair, at Lodge Tuesday Night.

Licking Aerie, F. O. E., at their meeting Tuesday evening presented Mr. George H. Hamilton, their retiring worthy president, with a fine Morris chair, as a token of their high esteem. The presentation was very ably made by Mr. J. P. Lamb in behalf of the Licking Aerie.

Mr. Hamilton responded in fitting words, thanking the lodge for their beautiful present and their earnest efforts during his term of office.

IT IS FOR LADIES, TOO.

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's 'Herpicide.' Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or discolor, and it is perfectly safe. Send in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

SECOND SERIOUS INJURY TO AN AGED HIGHWATER WOMAN.

Newark Man With Bride From the South—Miss Bowers Became Suddenly Ill.

Highwater, O., Jan. 11.—Grandmother Bishop has been very unfortunate again this winter. Last winter she fell and broke two ribs. One day last week she fell breaking her arm. She is an aged and respected lady of this place, and has the sympathy of all her friends. Her son Mr. Mitchell Willard, is very ill again this winter.

Miss Bessie Bowers was taken very suddenly ill Saturday with neuralgia. She is reported no better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carpenter and family of Fredonia, and Mr. and Mrs. Solinger and family of Highwater, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Bell, also of Highwater.

Miss Louie Solinger was the guest of Olive Dunlap, over Sunday.

Mr. Ed Bell butchered sixteen fine hogs and a beef, Monday.

Mr. Elmer Solinger of Newark, who spent the summer in the South, has returned with a southern bride, and spent a week with his parents here. After which he returned to Newark where he will make his future home.

Mr. Albert Pierpoint is wearing a very pleasant smile. It's a boy.

A few of the neighbors and friends of Mr. Chester Gosnell gathered together Friday, to celebrate his 30th birthday with him. He is an aged and respected citizen of this place, and is loved by all. He is a very kind and obliging neighbor and is well known in the community, being born and raised at the place where he now lives. His many friends wish him many happy returns of the day.

STOCKHOLDERS

Of Both Banks Have Now Ratified the Merger of Franklin and Peoples.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Peoples National bank Tuesday afternoon the following men were re-elected directors of the bank: Messrs. W. L. Prout, G. W. Havens, W. W. Wehrle, M. Q. Baker, E. M. Baugher, and A. F. Crayton.

After the election of the directors, the contract of merger between the Franklin and Peoples banks was ratified by a unanimous vote. The merger of the two banks into the Franklin National will take place in April and until that date each of the old banks will continue in business as in the past.

The stockholders of both institutions have unanimously voted to consolidate the banks, making one big banking concern with a paid in capital and surplus at the start of $300,000. The list of stockholders will be announced later.

MR. O. C. JONES

Elected Secretary of the Licking County Building Association—To Move Office.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Licking County Building association Tuesday evening two directors were elected, being Messrs. F. S. Phillips and Ralph Norpell. The board organized by electing the following named officers: President, Warren S. Weiant; vice president, William W. Wehrle; secretary, J. C. Jones; treasurer, E. C. Wright; attorney, Carl Norpell.
